Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice
2018-2019 Program Information

1. Criminal Justice students are urged to take elective courses or to consider a minor in psychology, sociology, computer science, information systems, or management. Students interested in careers in correctional work including probation and parole are urged to minor in Human Services or Sociology.

For detailed information on the Criminal Justice program, please refer to the catalog link at: http://catalog.odu.edu/undergraduate/collegeofartsletters/sociologyandcriminaljustice/#bachelorofartsandbachelorscience-criminaljusticemajor

2. Students wishing to complete a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice must fulfill the University's General Education Language and Culture requirement by completing two semesters of a foreign language (unless meeting other criteria listed below). Students wishing to complete a Bachelor of Arts in Criminal Justice must take a total of four semesters of a foreign language to meet the degree requirements.

- Completed high school before December 31, 1985.
- Completed the third level of one foreign language in high school.
- Completed the second level of each of two foreign languages in high school.
- Earned a university-parallel associates degree approved to meet all lower division general education degree requirements.
- Earned a bachelor's degree from a regionally-accredited institution prior to admission to ODU as a second degree student.
- Have a native language other than English.

If the requirement is not met by one of the above means, students must successfully complete the 101F and 102F level of an approved foreign language sequence. American Sign Language can be used to meet this requirement.

3. Credit for lower level CRJS classes can be obtained through experiential learning, portfolio review or testing. For more information on these options, contact the Office of Experiential Learning at (757) 683-3697.

4. Dr. Jessica Huffman is the departmental advisor on the Old Dominion University main campus in Norfolk. She may be reached at (757) 683-3791 or by e-mail at jhuffman@odu.edu.

5. Students are held individually responsible for the information contained in the University Catalog. Failure to read and comply with University regulations will not exempt students from whatever penalties they may incur.

All efforts have been made to provide accurate information in on this advising sheet. However, the information is subject to change by the appropriate department. Please consult the University catalog for official information about the program.
